HEALTH COMMISSIONER URGES REMEDY FOR WATER SITUATION--ASKS CASH FOR HOSPITAL.

The Thirty-fifth annual report of the Milwaukee health department was made public today. It is a document of 192 pages of is a document of 192 pages of closely printed matter, copiously illustrated with cuts which add greatly to the value of the report.

The record of the work done during 1911 sets a highwater mark for Milwaukee. This applies not only to the regular activities of the department, but also to the new lines of activity which have been inaugurated during the last two years.

Special importance is given to the water supply in this report. The commissioner addresses the common council as the governing body of the city, which has power to change conditions affecting the water supply; and therefore he presents the facts with which the council must deal.

For the neutralizing of the sewage poured into the water supply in the lake, the commissioner recommends the establishment of an ozone plant. The removal of the intake to the north of its present location he says can be only a temporary remedy, if the sewage continues to pour into the lake. Filtration plants have proven expensive, and are not a bacteriological success in other cities, the report holds.

Education is Needed. Much emphasis has been laid by the present health commissioner on the work of education, and prevention of disease. At his request the bureau of education and publications was established by the council within the department, and had been at work six months when the report was written. The publication of the Healthologist, and of several pamphlets for regular use by the department, the preparation of public exhibits and the effort to secure the co-operation of various societies in the dissemination of knowl-

NEW YORK, April 16.-The White Star liner Titanic, the world's largest steamship, sank at 2:20 o'clock this morning about 500 miles off the dangerous coast of Cape Race, Newfoundland, with nearly 1,000 of her 1,300 passengers and her full crew of 860 on board. The latest wireless reports from Cape Race last night gave HALIFAX, N. S., April 16.-Held affoat only by her watertight compartments the White Star liner Titanic is slowly crawling toward this harbor. Her passengers have been taken off to other vessels only to have to face a second ordeal as they are to be again transferred to the Baltic of the White Star line this afternoon. The Baltic will take them to their journey's end in New York, where they are due next Thursday.

The disaster to the Titanic was unparalleled in the history of navigation. The largest, most luxurious and best appointed vessel ever laid down, she seemed proof against any disaster, and it is to the very fact that she was a new steamer that the passengers on board, noted financiers and society leaders owe their lives.

Hardly another craft afloat could have withstood the terrific shock when the Titanic, driving along at better than half speed although in the midst of ice fields, crashed bow-on into a great submerged mountain of ice, which tore away her steel

Only meager advices regarding the wreck have been received here by the wireless, and these fail to clear up how the accident took place, or whether there was a panic among the passengers. That Captain Smith, admiral of the White Star's fleet, and in command of this latest ocean creation, realized the danger was shown by an appeal for aid. The wireless of the Titanic picked up the Cape Race station and immediate aid was demanded.

The Allan liner Virginian was the first to be reached, but almost before she had turned her prow toward the wounded leviathian, another craft had started on the same errand.

Then came a cruel waiting time, punctuated with brief wireless messages that caused the utmost alarm. "Hurry! Hurry!" was the burden of every word that came flashing through the air, but it was plain from the start that the badly needed aid must come from the steamers that were in the immediate vicinity.

Finally word came that the situation on board the Titanic was so serious that the women and children had been placed in the life boats, and that they were ready to be trans-shipped should it appear that the steamer was certain to sink.

Another brief and fragmentary wireless followed, telling WAGE COMPROMISE AC- begun. The first boat loads were rowed to the Carpathia. The CEPTED BY SOFT COAL boats of the Titanic are the very latest in the life boat line, wide and non-sinkable. They are capable of accommodating 50 passengers in addition to the crew. However, there was no necessity of over-crowding and only 30 passengers were loaded into each of the boats.

CAPE RACE, April 16.—At 10:25 Sunday night the Titanic called "C. Q. D." and reported having struck an iceberg. The steamer said that immediate assistance was required.

MONTREAL, April 16.—At 8:30 this morning the Titanic was still afloat and her engines were working. At that hour she was crawlin the payroll of American bitumi- or ling slowly in the general direction of Halifax and toward the Virginian, which is en route to her.
