THE KUHIO LEAGUE MAY BOLT ROBERT HORNER WINS OUT

Kuhio League To Continue Its Fight

Evidently the Kuhio faction does not know when it is beaten, if the rumor current today, which circumstances make credible, is correct. To renew the fight so unavailingly made for and at the territorial convention, the Kuhioes are said to be planning for perpetuating the Kuhio League in the approaching campaign. It is further stated that, if the league is beaten in an attempt to carry the precinct organizations with it, it will bolt the regular party organization and make an independent fight either under a totally new name or one compounded of the Republican and some other distinguishing appellation.

According to rumor the Kuhio League is not letting the grass grow under its feet, but is taking steps to rally support of the Republican rank and file both in Honolulu and on the other islands. Last night W. J. Coelho left for Maui with a Portuguese citizen, whose name the Star has not learned, and it is said that their errand is to capture the middle island before anybody opposed to their cause wakes up.

HONOLULU CAN "SHOW" MISSOURI SOMETHING IN PURE FOOD LINE

Every now and again Food Commissioner Blanchard chirps up and grins cheerfully. These occasions are generally after he has read some mainland report on milk or drugs. This morning he gleefully pointed out some facts that are printed in a report published in Missouri.

"Just say 'show me,' and I will," declared Blanchard. And, suiting the action to the words, he handed the scribe the report. Turning to the page on milk, it was gleaned that out of 659 samples taken in 1911, 370 were adulterated. "That is going some," said Blanchard, and he volunteered the information that in Honolulu only one case of watering milk had been discovered during the whole year.

Then cream claimed the attention of the expert. He pointed out that in Missouri 219 samples of cream were taken, and that of these, 109 were adulterated. That worked out at a percentage of 49.2-10, which is also "going some." No adulterated Honolulu cream was discovered in 1911.

Icecream is not what it is represented to be in Missouri, according to the report, as, of sixty-nine samples taken, sixty-three were below standard.

Honolulu can nearly wrest the "honors" from Missouri as regards icecream, but in other fields it is shown above that Honolulu is blessed with the best of good things.

Drugs can also be compared, and tincture of iron is one especially mentioned. Of eight samples taken in Missouri, all were adulterated. Honolulu's lot showed nearly all above standard.

Commissioner Blanchard is very pleased also with the standard of poi that is now being sold in Honolulu. He has tested poi from all the factories and finds that it is all well above standard, as regards moisture.

SPANIARDS AT PLAY IN QUARANTINE

Somewhat the worse for wear in clothes and general appearance but still maintaining the debonaire carriage characteristic of their race, 162 young Spaniards landed yesterday from the Harpalion, are quartered under territorial quarantine at the immigration station.

This morning their countrymen who are residents of Honolulu lined the wire fence of the enclosure carrying on animated conversations over fifteen feet of space with the motley crew of compatriots held back by ropes from coming in contact with those who would welcome them. Packages of cigarettes and pineapples went over the fence in showers to be caught by the new arrivals or to form the object of mad scrambles.

Many of the visitors seemed to have money, for animated games of pitch and toss occupied much of their time and there was a continuous jingle in the air as pesetas and centavos changed hands.

The successful gamblers of the voyage could be marked by their raiment, which was a little better than that of the losers who had parted with their best clothing in the way of wagers.

Somewhere the voyagers had run foul of the dollar watch peddler and these loud tickers emblematic of a great American industry, were an object of pride to their owners who were continually polishing their nickel surfaces with bandannas sadly in need of washing.

A few took advantage of the opportunity to cleanse their soiled clothing in fresh water and the clothes lines had their burdens.

Inasmuch as the Spaniards are un-

COL. FRENCH TALKS TONIGHT

Colonel George French, the Territorial secretary of the Salvation Army, accompanied by Major John Willis, the divisional officer of the islands, visited the flourishing Ewa plantation corps last Thursday, where a wedding was performed, local officials installed and several soldiers sworn in.

Tonight Colonel French will give an address in the Army Hall, corner of King and Nuuanu streets, to which the public are cordially invited.

Those who attend will hear a remarkable man deliver an equally remarkable address.

MOTOR ENGINES ARE ACCEPTED

At the meeting of the board of supervisors last night a resolution appropriating $1000 for the purchase of four mules for the garbage service passed first reading.

A contract was awarded to the Inter-Island Steam Navigation Co. for 9000 pounds of copper wire for the lighting station, on its bid of $18.65 per 100 pounds.

The board accepted from the Schuman Carriage Co., Ltd., agent for the Seagraves Company of Columbus, Ohio, the two combination motor chemical engine and hose wagons, recently imported.

Midmonth payrolls were passed.

H. T. Mills and Captain Piltz appeared before the board for, and L. C. Parish against the proposed rest house at Waialae road and Eighth avenue. A warm argument pro and con was put up, but the pros had the advantage of having already received the permission of the board for the convenience. It was also endorsed by the local improvement club.

Hawaii Labor Immigration In Danger

(Special Cablegram to the Star).
WASHINGTON, April 20.—Inadvertently the Dillingham immigration bill passed the Senate without excepting Hawaii from the provisions of the literacy test for immigrants. It is believed the omission will be corrected in the House.

Robert Horner Wins Kukaiau Suit

Robert Horner is the winner in the fight between him and his brother Albert over the question of Robert's right to sell to T. H. Davies & Co. his interests in Kukaiau plantation and mill. The injunction to prevent such sale was dissolved by Judge Robinson at noon today and the bill dismissed.

In rendering his decision Judge Robinson took the stand that agreements such as that relied upon by Albert Horner are not favored in law. The agreement was to the effect that none of the Horners should sell his interest to an outsider without having first offered them to the other Horners at the same price that could be obtained elsewhere.

The fight has been a long and bitter one and the case in court was hotly contested. Withington & Stanley representing Robert Horner and Frank Thompson and A. A. Wilder appearing for Albert. The star witnesses were the two brothers, each for himself. The hearing lasted two weeks and brought out much interesting history of the sugar industry in Hawaii. Davies & Co., by their representatives, who were witnesses in the case, emphatically denied ever having attempted to get control of Kukaiau plantation, claiming that all the offers came from the Horners themselves. They admitted being ready to purchase the property and to having agreed to buy Robert Horner's interest for $260,000.

In rendering his decision today Judge Robinson said:

"Agreements of the class to which the agreement referred to in the bill belongs, are not favored in law as a rule, and a long line of decisions, well considered by eminent authorities, and by systems of jurisprudence, down to the present time, have found agreements of that character as being against public policy, except in certain cases.

"Now, in this case, if it had been the intent of the original partners to limit the ownership of the one-quarter interest transferred and assigned by the bill of sale, which appears not to have been dated, but was recorded on the 13th of September, 1889, it would have been an easy matter to have expressed the idea to be conveyed by the agreement in reference to the disposition of any interest in the partnership of John M. Horner & Sons by a covenant running with the property assigned in the instrument. That was not done, and the instrument is absolutely silent as to any limitation of the property assigned and transferred. It is only fair to assume that the parties didn't intend so to limit it.

"There have been exceptions. It is true, where agreements such as that referred to in the bill have been upheld by the courts, but those have been under exceptional circumstances and upon clear and convincing proof; and I do not think that the evidence shows in the case at bar such exceptional circumstances, nor is the proof clear and convincing of the establishment of such an assumption.

"In my judgment the respondent is entitled to a judgment and decree of this court in accordance with the prayer contained in his answer; and that the injunction be dissolved and the bill dismissed."

T. C. Warren Is Drowned

The death by accidental drowning of Thomas Charles Warren of Rock Ridge, Oakland, was eabled this morning to his three brothers in Honolulu, Louis J. Warren, of the firm of Smith, Warren and Hemenway; John T. Warren, of the Honolulu Photo Supply Co., and George Warren, of Wichman's. So far as is known the body has not yet been recovered. Mr. Warren was a well known young lawyer of Oakland and had scores of friends throughout the state of California as well as several in the islands. He was the eldest son of Rev. and Mrs. J. B. Warren of Berkeley, and Madame Warren, who has spent much time in Honolulu on several different occasions, will have the sympathy of many in the death of the first one of her seven children. Mr. Warren is survived by a young widow and infant son, Thomas C. Warren, Jr., and in addition to the brothers here, by two brothers Will and Frank Warren, formerly of Honolulu, now of California; and a sister, Mrs. Frank Leighton Gibson of Kalawao, Molokai. No particulars of the accident are known but it is feared he may have met death in a lake near his shooting box where it was his custom to spend many weekends in his favorite pastime of hunting.

SUPERINTENDENT NOT YET NAMED

Governor Frear had a long conference with Marston Campbell this morning, and many matters relating to the Loan Fund Commission were taken up. The changes that may be made in the future were discussed, and the things that have been done in the past were also talked over.

The governor received a communication from the United States Geographic Board lately, and in it were inquiries as to the correct names of many places shown on the maps of the islands.

No appointment of a new superintendent of public works has been made so far. The governor said at noon today that he had not yet appointed a man to the position.

TITANIC KNEW THAT ICEBERGS WERE NEAR

(Associated Press Cables to the Star).
NEW YORK, April 20.—Harold Bride, assistant to the wireless operator on the Titanic, testified before the Senate committee today that the North German Lloyd steamer Frankfort was twenty miles nearer the wreck than the Carpathia, but was told to keep out, as it was feared she could not understand. Bride said that he had received warnings of icebergs being near which he had transmitted to the captain.

LONDON, April 20.—A relief fund of $400,000 for the families of those lost on the Titanic has been subscribed here.

NEW YORK, April 20.—It is learned that the government has intercepted an Ismay wireless to the Cedric to take him and the surviving crew of the Titanic on board and return to England to escape an investigation here.

An additional subpoena has been served on Ismay, who complained that such treatment was "brutally unfair."

GOING THE COLONEL'S WAY.
OMAHA, Neb., April 20.—The returns from the Nebraska primaries at noon show that Roosevelt leads with Taft second and La Follette third. On the Democratic side, Clark leads, with Harmon and Wilson following.

PORTLAND, April 20.—Roosevelt carries two-thirds of the counties of Oregon, and La Follette second, carrying Multnomah county. Taft gets ten delegates out of thirty-four.

PORTLAND, April 20.—Ben Sell is leading Jonathan Bourne for Senator.

PUBLISHING CAMPAIGN FUNDS.
WASHINGTON, April 20.—The House has passed the bill requiring the publication of the funds raised for presidential campaigns, on penalty of $5,000 for not complying.

PERISH IN RIVER FLOOD.
JACKSON, Miss., April 20.—It is believed that 200 people have perished by the flood in Bolivar county.

KILLED IN A CYCLONE.
BISON, Kas., April 20.—Four people are believed to have been killed in a cyclone near here.

Polo Field Water Again

Alexander Young, the superintendent of Kapiolani Park, confirms the statement of Marston Campbell with regard to the alleged shortage of water on the polo field. Young declared this morning that water has been available for the polo field since November last. He also stated that the reason no water was applied was because Walter Dillingham, chairman of the Civic Sanitation Committee, had not been able to send prisoners out to do the necessary work.

Marston Campbell again said this morning that the statement that he was responsible for the water not being applied to the polo field is a "fabrication."

The statement of water superintendent Little, which clearly shows that water was available, since November 16 last, is verified by the record books of the department.

Door Opened For Perjury

A nolle prosequi was entered yesterday afternoon by Deputy United States District Attorney C. C. Bitting in the case of Chin Tong Ching, who was on trial under an indictment for perjury. The nolle followed the ruling of Judge Clemens that the interpreter who was the principal witness against Chin could not refer to the stenographer's notes as to what he interpreted in the opinion trial whence the perjury charge originated. The judge held that, although the interpreter had been sworn to interpret faithfully and the stenographer faithfully to take down whatever was said, yet the stenographer's notes were not good evidence and could not be used.

This ruling, in the opinion of the prosecuting officers of the court, opens the door for perjurers and makes it virtually impossible to secure the conviction of a perjurer who talks through an interpreter.

Crime on Reservations.
Next Monday, the trial of Matsunaga, charged with larceny on a government reservation, will begin in the federal court. The defendant is charged with having stolen from a fellow countryman six promissory notes for sums aggregating $1000.

The Matsunaga case will be followed by that of teamster Nichols who, it is claimed, stabbed Bert Dunlap at Fort Shafter some time ago in a quarrel over a goat.

THE HACKFELD RAILWAY TRIP

That the trip over the Oahu Railroad yesterday, as guests of President B. F. Dillingham, was most pleasant and instructive, was the consensus of opinion of some thirty business men who made up the party which left here by special train yesterday morning, returning about a o'clock in the afternoon. As stated in yesterday's Star, the trip was complimentary to J. F. Hackfeld, president of H. Hackfeld & Company, who leaves in a few days on his return to Germany.

The party was joined on the way by Manager Renton of Ewa plantation, Manager Bull of Oahu plantation, and a number of other business men along the line. After visiting the Wahiawa district, the train returned to the main line and made a fast run to Haleiwa where lunch was served.

NOTES OF THE POLICE COURT

In the police court this morning, Fook Tai, charged with embezzlement, had his case nolle prossed.

W. Dolman and Hose Mandola, drunk, were fined $2 and costs.

Manuel Silva was arrested this morning on a charge of assault and battery.

PROMOTION OF REV. H. P. JUDD IN WORK OF HAWAIIAN BOARD

Two Automobile Accidents---Personal and Social---Sports and Entertainment---Cement Gun Imported

(Special Correspondence of the Star).
WAILUKU, April 19.—The many Maui friends of Reverend Henry P. Judd, pastor of the Kahului church and agent for the Hawaiian Board of Missions for the island of Molokai, have been much interested to learn of his recent promotion in the Hawaiian Board work.

Mr. Judd is now superintendent of the Sunday school department of the mission, and will have charge of directing the work of institutes and the teacher-training classes throughout the islands. The work, though of such a large nature, will be directed from Kahului, where Mr. Judd will still live and still continue his pastorate. His trips to the different portions of the Territory will be made largely between Sundays. Kahului is a central point to work from in Hawaii and Maui, the two largest islands of the group, where there are more churches and Sunday schools needing just such help than in any other portion. Furthermore in actual number of churches and Sunday schools there are many more in these two islands than elsewhere, so that the work can be done from Maui to greater advantage than from any other center.

Mr. Judd has had special preparation for this kind of work. He had one year of steady traveling among the islands as superintendent of Sunday school work when he first returned to Hawaii. Furthermore, he knows the Hawaiian language well, having learned to speak it fluently in the last three years. He was engaged in missionary work in South Carolina before coming to Hawaii, and is more familiar with the local needs in the Sunday schools throughout the group than any other man in missionary work here today. He has an unusually wide grasp of the field and the problems that confront the churches of all nationalities.

Associated with Mr. Judd will be Akaike Akana, a man of splendid training in the Hartford Theological Seminary and the School of Religious Pedagogy in the same city. For five years Mr. Akana studied in the very line of work that the Board now proposes carrying on through Mr. Judd and himself. Mr. Akana is not only well equipped intellectually for the important field work, but he speaks Hawaiian and English fluently. He is a fine scholar, has a splendid voice
